April Fool- ©1981 Newworld Media Music Publishers

First recorded on the album "Wait'll You Hear This",

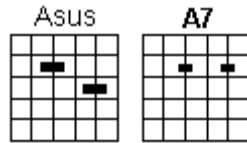

April Fool

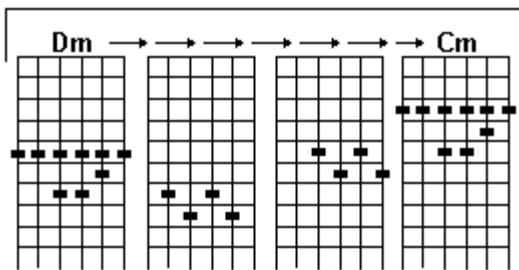

You wear your heart on your sleeve

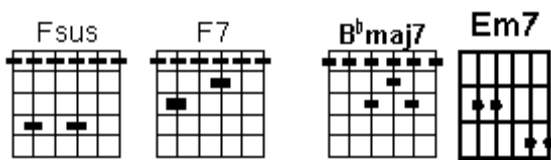

And though they laugh when they leave

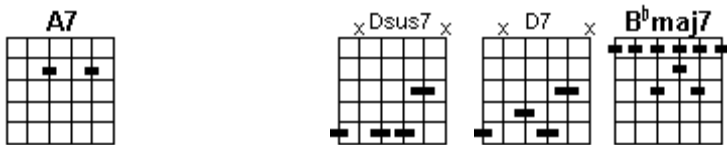

You call it Love and I be-lieve (you)

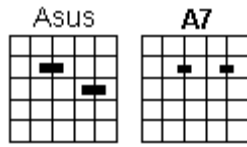

April Fool

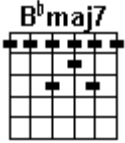

Why must you always play the clown?

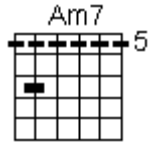

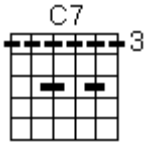

You had the edge you laid it down

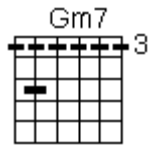

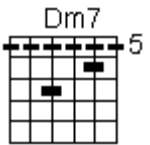

You give it up without a sound...

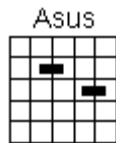

Oh April Fool

How can they say "love is cruel"?

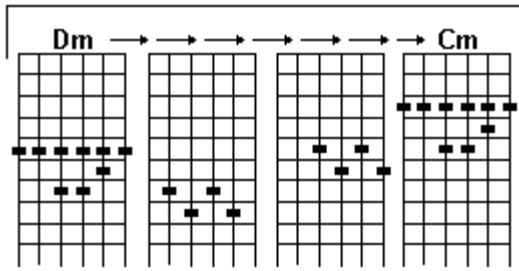

They catch the ring but drop the jewel.

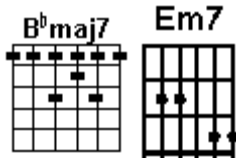

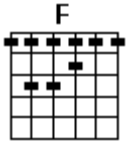

Like a teardrop in a pool...

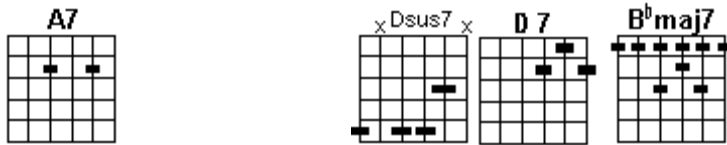

Instrumental Break

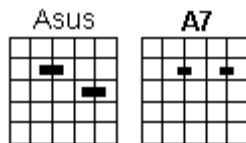

April Fool

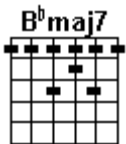

As the heart shows through the eyes

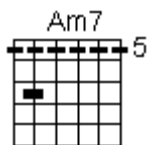

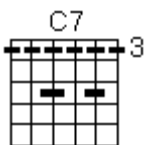

Before you were born you were recog-nized

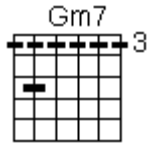

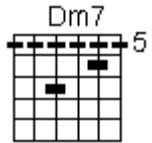

And unto the losers comes their prize.

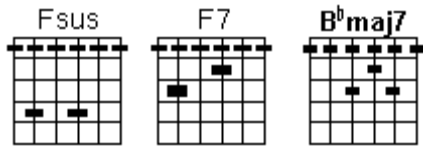

Oh April Fool

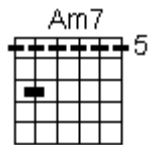

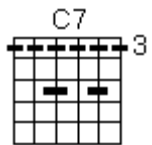

Even as the hands were washed, you knew

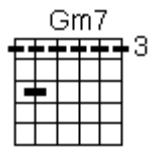

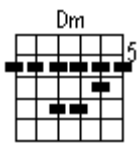

We'd free the thief instead of you

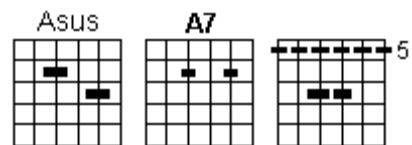

April Fool

You said the Father was in You

You said we know not what we do

Forgive us...April Fool.
