

One and Many

Noel Paul Stookey, Elizabeth B Stookey & Sam Lardner
©2008 NewWorld Multimedia Publishing

INTRO E A E A E A E

VERSE 1

We live in the same house, on different floors

I got my window. and you got yours

We've each got a door that leads to the hall

But the rooms are so cozy and the door is so small

CHORUS

One FLAME; many candles

One SKY; many stars

One SEA; many rivers

One LOVE...so many hearts

One FLAME; many candles

One SKY; many stars

One SEA; many rivers

One LOVE...so many hearts

VERSE 2

So mostly we sit by our windows and stare

And sometimes we wonder what's happening out there?

Is there something we're missing, something I ought to see?

Something bigger than life? Something bigger than me?

CHORUS

VERSE 3

I'm reading a book I found on the shelf

A mystery that I've written myself

I'm in the last chapter; not sure what's in store

But I'm betting it ends with a knock on the door.

CHORUS